PERSONAL

Comings and Goings of Local People and Others.

VICTOR BARNDT, the mining engineer, came in this morning from Oakland.

GRANT MILLER, the Socialist candidate for United States senator, was a passenger on today's train for Reno.

HERMAN DAVIS, wife and daughter, arrived from Rawhide Friday evening and were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Masterson. They returned to Rawhide yesterday morning.

H. C. NEWELL, engineer of the Millers ore train, who has been looking after his land interests in Fresno for the past three weeks, will return to his run tomorrow morning, returning from Fresno this morning.

WALTER COFFEE, athletic instructor at the Volunteer gymnasium, after an absence of three months at health springs in California, returned to Tonopah yesterday. Mr. Coffee has regained his usual good health.

ELECTION RETURNS RECEIVED TUESDAY NIGHT AT ELKS

The Elks invite their friends, including ladies, to come around Tuesday night and make themselves at home receiving election returns from all over the state and nation as fast as received by Western Union wires.

County Investigation

THOMAS K. CHAMBERS, the independent candidate for district attorney of Nye county, is pledged to a thorough investigation of the affairs of every county official to the end that there may be a clean up and the beginning of a fresh administration with an unspotted slate whereon its records may be written. Mr. Chambers is an enthusiastic young man, an experienced lawyer who has practised in Tonopah long enough to convince taxpayers of his ability to take care of the interests of the county. He takes the stand on the plank that Nye county has too long been exploited by politicians and the time has come to bring about a great change that will lead to a better understanding between officeholders and taxpayers. He wants the taxpayers to have a hearing when important matters are to be discussed and he wants the era of machine rule to be thrown over the dump and buried in oblivion. Nye county has unfortunately been administered during the last ten years by machine rule and Mr. Chambers thinks the time is ripe for a change. He has no political debts to pay and no party favors to reward.

Matthew Kyle is the man for the office of surveyor-general and ex-officio land register. As United States surveyor general he has acquired a vast storehouse of information that qualifies him for the office he is running for on the Republican ticket.

HEADACHE STUFF DOESN'T GO IN THE COPPER BELT

YERINGTON TIMES HAS SOMETHING TO SAY ABOUT DEMOCRATIC SENATOR.

United States District Attorney Wm. Woodburn, Jr., and Junior Senator Pittman addressed a small audience at Owl hall on Wednesday evening of this week. The gentlemen arrived rather late by auto from Fallon, and Mr. Pittman was somewhat indisposed. However, Mr. Woodburn spoke first and gave the senator a little longer time to recuperate before delivering his address. The contention of both gentlemen was to the effect that Mr. Newlands should be returned to the United States senate from Nevada. Mr. Woodburn, of course, did not refer to the speech made by his father while he was running against Mr. Newlands in 1892, but rehearsed the old argument that Newlands was a national character, a great irrigationist, etc., etc. He spoke for the balance of the Democratic ticket and here there were faint explosions of applause now and then.

Mr. Pittman, who the Reno Journal proprietor says, was looked upon as merely an "adventurer" by Mr. Newlands six years ago, made a pretty good spiel, considering the conditions. It was to the effect that the present administration was the greatest thing that ever happened to the country, and that it must be supported and that Newlands must be sent back to Washington to help support it. In fact, he tried to impress upon the audience the fact that the administration would go to pot if Newlands was not re-elected. He did not mention the fact that the Democrats had promised two years ago to cheapen the cost of living, but had practically made it higher, beside bringing about conditions where the laboring man could not receive as much for his labor, could not labor as many days in the week, and thousands of them losing their jobs altogether. Neither did Mr. Pittman tell us why he had voted to close the Fallon sugar factory. The sheep men of this section were conspicuous by their absence in the audience and Pittman had no apology to make for having stated in Washington that the sheep men of Nevada were a bunch of ignorant Basques and Portuguese. If you think Pittman did not make this statement come to this office and we will show you a night letter sent from Washington on the 20th day of June, 1913. This letter was in answer to a communication sent to Pittman from C. A. Stout, of Reno. In it Pittman denies that there are 4,000 men in Nevada engaged in the sheep business and winds up by saying "a majority of them are admitted sheep herders of a foreign nationality of the lowest type." After the show the senator and his friends proceeded to irrigate (the inner man) and the festivities continued until the small hours of the next morning when the senator again became "indisposed" and was assisted to his room. We have sometimes tried to get by on this "indisposed" and "headache" stuff ourself, but our friends have brutally told us we were drunk.

BUTLER THEATER.

At the Butler this evening an interesting programme will be shown, as follows: "The Car of Death," a Kalem railroad drama; "The Fable of One Samaritan Who Got Paralysis of the Helping Hand," an Essanay comedy by George Ade, America's foremost humorist, and a two-reel Vitagraph comedy, "Josie's Coney Island Nightmare." After reading a new book called "The Castaways," and a strenuous trip to Coney Island, our old friend Josie and her sweetheart, Hank, sit out on the rocks by the seashore. The combination of the day's experiences and too much cheese for lunch gives her a terrible nightmare in which she seems to be cast on a desert island with Hank. They have hair-raising adventures, are condemned to die by the king of the cannibals, and barely manage to get off the island in a small boat. This is one of the funniest of the Josie series. Tomorrow, "The Million Dollar Mystery," Wednesday, "Beasts of the Jungle," a two-reel special feature. Friday—"Perils of Pauline."—Adv.

TOTAL REGISTRATION OF 22,000 FOR ELECTION

With registration of voters for the general election closed October 20, reports of the total registration have been gathered from the entire state and show 22,719 voters on the polls who will be entitled to vote next Tuesday. Of these 9,804 registered as Democrats, 7,307 as Republicans, 423 as Progressives, 4,209 gave no party and 876 are Socialists. The large number under the caption of "no party" is due to the fact that these men registered for the general election only and were not required to give their party affiliation for that purpose. It is reported, however, that many registered after the primary nevertheless asked to be registered under their party name. It is expected a total vote of about 19,000 will be cast.

PLEASE RETURN THE GOODS TO MISS FANNIE CONLEY

During the fire recently some one removed from the rooms of Miss Fannie Conley a quantity of merchandise all packed and addressed to persons who had placed orders with Miss Conley for the goods. Unless the packages are returned Miss Conley will have to stand the loss. Any one who can give information is requested to call on Miss Conley.
